What is a watershed?

A watershed is an area, bounded by mountains or hills, from which all rainwater flows to a single body of water--lake, stream, river or sound.

Courtesy of King County Design and Civic and Engagement